But after a long pandemic, the center's staff and resources were stretched thin. That's why Democrats passed the American Rescue Plan, sending over $146 million to community health centers in Massachusetts — including Charles River Community Health right here in Waltham! Do you support investing in community health centers in cities like Waltham? Yes No Submit Click to open in a separate window I visited Charles River Community Health earlier this week and heard how these funds meant they could hire more staff to supplement an exhausted workforce, increase COVID-19 mitigation and outreach, and improve medical equipment. For many Waltham families, this means better health outcomes and lower costs. I was so grateful to see the progress we've made together, and to hear directly from frontline workers how the American Rescue Plan is improving health care in Waltham. Health care is a right and putting these words into action is how Democrats are building back better for Waltham.
