Friend, As a community, a Commonwealth, and a nation, we're at a pivotal moment in the fight against COVID-19. Cases are reaching all-time highs almost every day. Hospitalizations are increasing. And tragically, more and more people are dying from this dangerous virus. This has placed even more pressure on our frontline health care workers who have been working tirelessly for the past nine months to save as many lives as possible. It's critical that we keep them at the forefront of all we do -- from securing additional pandemic relief to simple things like wearing a mask during a visit to the grocery store. That's why TOMORROW at 4pm, I'll be joined by Katie Murphy, President of the Massachusetts Nurses Association and Congressman Raul Ruiz, M.D., for a Facebook Live discussion on the challenges our health care heroes are facing and what we can do to continue supporting them. CLICK HERE to RSVP and get a reminder when the event starts! For questions about the coronavirus pandemic or help with a federal agency, contact my office HERE. As always - for coronavirus resources, you can visit my COVID-19 resource page HERE. Warm regards, Lori Trahan Member of Congress P.S. Due to the ongoing public health crisis, my offices will continue to be physically closed. However, my staff and I are teleworking full time and can be reached via phone at 978-459-0101 or by email at Rep.LoriTrahan@mail.house.gov.
