The Congressional Youth Advisory Council offers students a unique opportunity to learn about the federal government, discuss public policy and local Collin County issues, and interact with their federal representative and congressional staff while serving their community. Through the program, students will strengthen critical thinking and problem-solving skills by assessing the role of the federal government as it relates to issues within Texas' Third Congressional District while honing their public speaking and writing skills. Students who wish to be considered for the Congressional Youth Advisory Council must submit their completed application by September 5, 2019.
