Do you support efforts to make youth sports more affordable?

Monday, August 12, 2024

Peter, My family and I enjoyed watching the 2024 Olympics. It was great to see the Hudson Valley so well-represented in Paris;- and to see Team USA win the most medals! Congratulations to all who made it possible, especially these athletes from NY-17! When we invest in youth sports, we help children pursue their dreams. Some of these kids might become Olympic athletes like those who competed this year in Paris! I've been proud to spearhead legislation to make youth sports more affordable for families. As a State Assemblyman, I helped secure record funding for Hudson Valley schools, including their athletic programs. As a member of Congress, I've championed efforts to make youth sports more affordable. I joined Congressman Josh Gottheimer in introducing the Promoting Lifelong Activity for Youth Act (PLAY) Act, which will provide tax credits for families to lower the cost of youth recreational sports and equipment.I also introduced legislation to create a $200 nonrefundable tax credit for parents for elementary and secondary school sports andrecreational equipment. As a former little league player and varsity cross country and long distance track runner, I know how much value there is in these programs. Do you support these efforts to make these programs more affordable for families? Fill out my survey below to let me know what you think!
