Congressman Kim was proud to vote for the No Surprises Act in December 2020 and even prouder to see it go into effect last month. The law bans surprise billing in private insurance for emergency care and requires that uninsured and self-pay patients receive key information about health care costs.

According to Forbes, half of Americans have medical debt. This new legislation will help all Americans be able to focus on getting the care they need without fearing large bills from out-of-network providers. Thank you for your input.
