HERE REPORTED TO THE REPORT OF THE PROPERTY OF

Charles River Community Health Center to see firsthand how the American Rescue Plan helped our local care providers combat the pandemic, address critical staff shortages, and improve patient care across Waltham. And this year, I have even more good news to share: I secured $247,000 in the federal budget for the Charles River Community Health Center to help improve patient care and access! I want to hear from you: SHOULD CONGRESS INVEST IN COMMUNITY HEALTH CENTERS? These funds will be used to upgrade the Charles River Community Health Center's electronic records system – helping to empower patients and expand care capacity. The Center's CEO, Elizabeth Browne, told me that funding projects like this are "vital to ensuring our community health centers have the highest quality technology available to care for our patients." Elizabeth is right, and you can count on me to ensure our community health centers are fully equipped to provide quality care for every Waltham family. In total, I secured more than $20 million in this year's federal budget for community projects across the Fifth District, including $2 million for health equity projects. I'm proud to have worked with our community partners to identify how federal resources can be put to work saving lives and improving health outcomes for all.
